

A Worthwhile Cause

Serious anglers will go to great lengths to select a super sensitive rod, determine just the right bait, and locate the best fishing hole. But the moment that trophy fish strikes, all the extra effort instantly becomes a worthwhile cause.

Likewise, it takes great effort to select the proper componentry, determine precisely how the socket will fit the residual limb, and locate the best sites on the skin surface for electrodes to be attached so that EMG signals produced by the patient will control the myoelectric arm. That's why CFI's highly-trained certified prosthetists spend the time necessary to fully understand what is truly important to the individual before fabrication ever begins. It takes a lot of time to design, create, and fit an upper extremity prosthesis. But the moment that young patient reels in his first fish using his prosthesis, all the extra effort instantly becomes a worthwhile cause indeed.

LIMBS FOR HAITI

Prosthetics and Orthotics in DeSoto County

CFI Prosthetics Orthotics is a practice devoted to creating artificial limbs (prosthetics), braces (orthotics) and diabetic/therapeutic shoes for patients suffering limb loss, muscular weakness and conditions of the foot. CFI has treated patients in Memphis and the surrounding area since 1982. CFI is family owned and operated, and the current company president represents the 4th generation in practice. That family feel permeates the company.

"Every practitioner I have ever met got into this field as a result of a personal connection or experience—whether that be the amputee prosthetist, or an orthotist who wears braces him/herself, to having been through a trauma with a family member—and all points in between," said Mike Smith, Vice President of Contracting for CFI.

CFI patient Annabelle Hulgán enjoys the zoo with her brother. As a result of her reciprocating gait orthoses, Annabelle who is paralyzed from the waist down is able to stand and walk for periods of time, rather than constantly being wheelchair bound.

CFI is the only ABC-certified prosthetics and orthotics practice in DeSoto County. The ABC is the accrediting body for practices such as CFI and is the gold standard in the field for determining the quality of care provided. The company treats all age groups, from the youngest pediatrics to the elderly.

CFI is experienced and qualified to provide patients with bionic limbs as well as more traditional types of prostheses. The company also is experienced and certified in the use of the new generation of "myo-orthotics" which uses functional electrical stimulation for patients suffering from ailments that cause conditions such as drop foot. In some cases, this treatment can result in a full recovery.
